

CROWN FLOORING LTD

To whom it may concern,

Crown Flooring Ltd are active participants in the Vinyl Take-Back Scheme run by Recofloor. The scheme's goal is to collect and recycle vinyl flooring waste on behalf of Altro Ltd and Polyflor Ltd, which contributes to reducing the carbon footprint of the flooring industry.

Crown Flooring Ltd have recycled 49 tonnes of vinyl flooring since they joined the scheme in 2016.

The collection process is mainly carried out by back-haul, meaning that the material is collected when new flooring is delivered. This approach reduces the carbon footprint of the scheme and helps members to achieve their carbon reduction targets.

Recovering vinyl flooring waste through the scheme has a significant positive impact on the environment. Material suitable for recycling is either reprocessed into new flooring products or used as a base material for traffic cones and road barriers. This not only stops the material from ending up in landfills but limits the use of raw materials and helps in the production of more eco-friendly products.

Recofloor's commitment to sustainability is evident as the scheme has recycled over 6,900 tonnes of post-use flooring since its establishment in 2009.

By encouraging the recycling of vinyl flooring waste, Recofloor and companies like Crown Flooring Ltd are making a valuable contribution to reducing the carbon footprint of the flooring industry and protecting the environment for future generations.
